

You want to create a shortcut on Equasis Website on your mobile device screen (phone or tablet), like previously with the mobile App, with a direct icon?

This document is for you!

Previously, you had an icon on your mobile device, to allow you to access directly to the MobileApp.

You can do the same for Equasis Website, which contains more informations and contents than the Mobile App.

The website is also in "full responsive" design, which means that the screen automatically adapts to your mobile device screen.

Equasis is pleased to give you indication in order to help you to create a specific access to Equasis Website directly on the home screens of your mobile device.

Please note that depending of your browser version or your mobile device, you may not find exactly the same menus than those mentionned above.
